

THE MARRIAGE PICKLE: UNTYING THE NOT

SYNOPSIS

Who wouldn't want to retire and live a life of leisure? Strong-willed, Managing Editor of one of the last remaining newspapers Liv Torgensen, that's who! Happily married to John, Liv has begun working incessantly to make the paper a success. John, however, retired two years ago and is tired of trying to remember what his wife looks like. The second honeymoon on Bora Bora, without Liv, breaks the marriage back. The ultimatum is launched. Retire or divorce. Liv refuses to retire and won't sign the divorce papers. Their daughters are enlisted to be their spies and confidants in the ensuing debacle. John has found Belinda; Liv would do anything including trying a new look, begging, compromise and a host of dating disasters, to win John back. Anything - except retire. Who will win the divorce wars?
